

RE:NEW

THE OLD HAS GONE, THE NEW IS UNLEASHED!

2 CORINTHIANS 5:17

Sunday Morning January 27th - Re:New>

Most of us have habits. Behavioural scientists tell us that we develop these habits via a neurological loop that involves a cue, a routine and a reward. Essentially when we encounter a situation we take an action and receive whatever the reward is. For example - we feel hungry and we know where the cookies are and we eat one (or 2 or 3!) and don't feel hungry anymore. When we repeat this process it creates a mental association between the situation and action which means that when the cue is encountered the behaviour is performed automatically. It becomes integrated and we no longer actually think of the process. That's a reason it's very difficult to break habits. Our Re:New series is aimed at helping us look at how we relate to God. The question for this Sunday is how "habitual" has the way we relate to God become? What are the "automatic" ways we think about or relate to Him that we've been influenced towards over time? Do we even think about the process of engaging with or about God at all? This week we're looking at the challenge that the early church faced of letting go of the old ways of relating to God in order to experience the freshness that Jesus unleashed to individuals and their community. Looking forward to reNEWing life together and celebrating the reminder of this New Agreement Jesus inaugurated for all of humanity.

Dave asks for prayers for health, insight and spiritual protection for his family while away.

Happy New Year!!!

This was Friday January 11 and included a mini treat for our Saturday Connect students and others who joined in. We served over 100 meals of which about 70 was sent out into the community to the elderly and need as well as shutins. Some people also walked in and were fed. It was a full day but very rewarding.

We resume our soup program the last Friday in February.

Please pray that the Lord will send willing workers in this area of the vineyard and for strength, commitment and determination for those already involved.

God is truly at work and we give Him all the glory.
