

JEHOVAH

Last week we began our Revealed series in the Book of Beginnings by looking at God's first revealed name to us, "Elohim - The All Powerful Creator." But God's intent was always that his creation comes to know him personally. This week I can hardly wait for us to look together at what is possibly the most familiar name of God to many of us. This week we will learn that God gives a personal disclosure of himself to his creation – The name YHWY. When Moses asked God, "who shall I say sent me?" In that moment God personally revealed Himself to his creation as YHWH – "JEHOVAH," the self-revealing God who is always present, accessible and near to those who call on Him for deliverance.

As we look towards the Cross, we are truly excited about what God is revealing to us through His names, because through the revelation of his names we begin to see that Elohim has been painting a picture of the Cross for us from the very beginning.

Come ready to discover together. See you on Sunday!

> Messy Spirituality

A great book that offers a strong antidote for spiritual perfectionism. Mike Yaconelli shares great stories that illustrate truth to help us cut loose from the tyranny of the "ought-to's" and opens our eyes to being loved - shortcomings and all - by the God who meets us.

CAP

Christians against Poverty (CAP):

People living in poverty have a life expectancy that is 21 years less than the national average. Today, there are people in our community whose lives are being devastated as a result of debt. They may be struggling to feed their families, suicidal, depressed and alone. We have a great opportunity to partner with Christians Against Poverty (CAP) and to demonstrate God's Love in action, bringing hope and salvation to some of the most marginalized people in our community. We're looking for people who are interested in helping NRCC on Mission and being trained to help with CAP. If you are interested - please speak to Dean or contact

ALPHA:

Alpha is a series of interactive sessions exploring the basics of the Christian faith.

Each session looks at a different question, and is designed to create conversation. There's no pressure, no follow-up and no charge; it's just an open, informal, and honest space to explore and discuss life's big questions together. Each Alpha has:

Food:

Whether it's a group of friends gathered around a kitchen table, or a quick catch-up over coffee, food has a way of bringing people together. It's no different at Alpha. All sessions start with food, because it's a great way to connect, relax and build friendships.

Talk:

The talks are designed to be engaging and inspire conversation. Usually around 30 minutes long, they explore the big issues around faith and unpack the basics of Christianity, addressing questions like "Who is Jesus?", "Why and how do I pray?" and "How does God guide us?"

Discussion:

Probably the most important part of any Alpha: the chance to share thoughts and ideas about the talk without being corrected or judged. There's no obligation to say anything; it's an opportunity to hear from others and contribute your own perspective.

"Alpha is where I was able to go with people from all walks of life and come together to discuss faith. We ate together, we talked together, and we learned from each other." - Martin, Alpha Guest
